EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT

Rieber...

IMPROVING LIVES

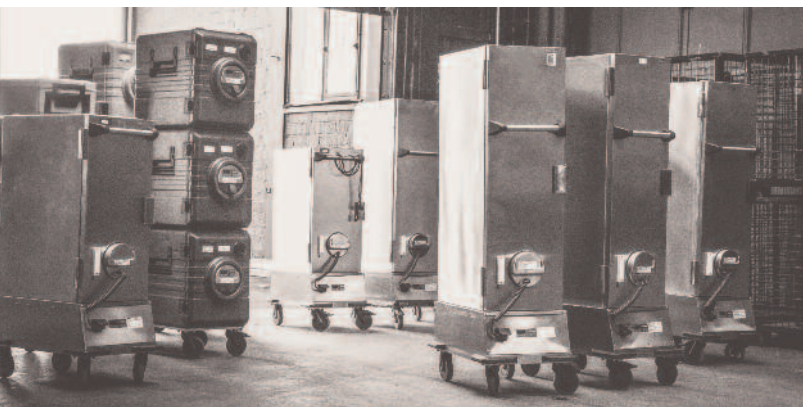

HELPING YOU TO FEED THE SICK & VULNERABLE

To beat this virus, a good balanced meal is crucial for the wellbeing of both staff and patients, but getting these meals to where they are needed has just become even harder.

The solution is a managed way to serve individual meals safely, whilst maintaining food quality and nutrition, even after a substantial period of time.

Rieber Thermoport meal delivery solutions make this possible.

Transport and protect

BGL Rieber is the expert in food transportation and you can depend on us to protect, so you can serve hot, cold and ambient food – and always safely.

Ensuring the best quality is all about the temperature going in, the containers you use and how you pack them. We are experts in this field... ask us for more information. We can show you how to pack boxes properly for all occasions and menus.

Also ask us about specialist applications such as transport over rough terrain, lifts, stairs, specialist vehicles, height and width restrictions, towable or stackable.

1 Thermoport boxes:

Built for individual meals. Tough but lightweight. Insulation keeps food hot, cold or ambient. Reusable, robust and dishwasher safe. Non porous plastic - perfect for infection control.

2 Heated Thermoport boxes:

Feature heating built into the door to keep food at up to 85°C. Heated boxes are so efficient they can work off electric vehicles.

3 GN Pans and anti-spill lids:

Rieber is the world's largest manufacturer of GN pans, so all sizes are available. With anti-spill lids, ensuring nothing spills out during travel.

Individual stainless steel meal tray

Perfect for these times

Whether it's a food grade stainless steel meal tray, an insulated meal box for patients in isolation, or a stackable heated Thermoport food transport system to move food from the kitchen to the ward, Rieber's products are the perfect solution for the situation we are currently in... simple, robust, reusable, hygienic, practical.

We are here to support the NHS and care system to maintain the mental and physical wellbeing which comes from a regular, warm and healthy meal.
